Bewhiskered Highwayman Secures Between $40 and $50.

Robbery Took Place in the Early Evening, as the Driver Was Finishing His Rounds.

An Auerbach delivery wagon in charge of W. F. Crow was held up by a lone highwayman on Ninth East street between Eighth and Ninth South about 8 45 last night, and the driver was relieved of between $40 and $50. The hold-up made his escape with the money.

Young Crow was making late Saturday night deliveries. He had almost completed his zounds in the southeastern part of the city and had collected a consideraof the city and had collected a considera-ble sum of money. He was driving south on Ninth East, when a man sprang from the side of the road, caught his horses by the bits and stopped them. At the same time he held a gun on Crow and ordered him to get out of the wagon. Crow obeyed and the hold-up then came back to the wagon, stand the young man up againt the wheel and while holding the gun on him with one hand, searched his clothing with the other, securing some-thing over 160 of the money that had been collected.

thing over $40 of the money that had been collected.

As soon as he had been released from the clutches of the bandii. Crow went to a store only a half block away and telephoned police headquarters an account of his experience. The hold-up, he said, was a large, broad-shouldered man, wearing a light-colored slouch hat. He also wore a red handkerchief tied across his face and below the handkerchief appeared.

Fringe of whiskers, probably gray in color. From this description it is considered possible that the highwayman is the same venerable individual who a few nights ago held up the roadhouse at Main and Thirteenth South streets.

Crow is 21 years old, the son of Alma II. Crow of 42 South Tenih East street, and is a young man of unquestioned character and stendy habits. Crow appeared in person at the police station as soon as he could make the trip uptown and the case.

The Woman Screamed and the Grabber Took to His Heels.

"I want that money. The demand was addressed to Mrs Lindsay of 421 South Main street, when she was on the way to her home shortly after noon yesterday. The person who made the demand was a cowboy-appearing young man in his shirt sleeves.

Mrs. Lindsay had been to a bank, where she drew a sum of money which she placed in her purse. She noticed the amateur cowboy in the bank, but had no idea that he was watching her. Proceeding down Main street she had neared Third South street, when the young man suddenly confronted her and made a grab at her purse, at the same time volunteering unnecessarily the information that he wanted the money.

The woman screamed and the young man ran away without accomplishing his purpose. Mrs. Lindsay notified the police of what had happened and patrolmen were notified to lookout for a money faced. she was on the way to her home shortly

NO HELP FOR HER.

Woman Is Dying While City and County Bandy Words.

In a sort of shed-kitchen affair, the oof of which is propped up with scantlings on the inside-a cold, squalid room, wherein the most ordinary comforts of life are unknown-a woman lies dying of paralysis. The room is at the rear of 117 South Fifth West street, within a block of the city hall. The sick woman is a Scandinavian, about 45 years old. Her husband is a negro. He is a cook by trade, but he has been cut of work for some time and is unable to secure medical attendance for his white wife. The case has been reported to the city authorities, but the old difficulty is encountered. The city can do nothing, because it is a county case, and the county will do nothing because it is very properly a city case. And in the meantime the woman is dying from lack of the most ordinary attention. It may be that she has been addicted to strong drink, that she has not the best kind of a record-but she

A little incident at the Grand Theater on the opening night of the "Show Girl" created as much amusement as anything in the play, and indicated in a way that even children who have not reached years of understanding are tired of references to the Russo-Japanese war. # PUBLIC SCHOOL ELECTION NEAR

Be of Importance.

Matter to Be Feared Is What Might Be Done in Retaliation.

Broad-Minded Trustees Alone Should Be Elected to This Important Position.

On Wednesday, December 7, the voters f Salt Lake City will say to whom shall be intrusted the management of the pubile schools of the city. It will be an important contest-one wherein is involved the most sacred of American institutions.

It is not so much a question as to who controls the schools now or who has done so in the past as the tendency of the Mormon hierarchy to reach out and control everything in sight-political, educational and commercial.

This force becomes stronger and more determined to rule every year since its first defeat by the Liberal element of the State and the unfortunate compromise that followed the agreement to stand together in obtaining Statehood

Its forces are entering every avenue of public and business life. The victory of the political ecclesiasts last week has already made many of the leaders over-bearing and haughty. They are now seretly planning a raid on Salt Lake coun-y that, if consummated, will be one of he most outrageous political schemes ver attempted in the West, I is intended o perfect the machine and make it even nore formidable than heretofore.

Danger of Church Control The people of Salt Lake will be given as opportunity to checkmate the ecclesias-tico-political machine next month. Unless this is done the chances are that the pub-lic schools will be made intreuchments of Suppose Frof. J. M. Tanner, the present superintendent of the church schools of the State, were to ask for the superintendency of the Salt Lake schools. Is there not reason to believe, in the light of recent events, that he be so honored? Such a thing has already been intimated. Will it be a case of "ramming polygamy down the throats" of the "enemies"? Tanner did heroic service for the Smootized organization. He is a noted polygamist. He is likewise ambitious. His expressions and his personal action as a polygamist are indorsed by the leaders of the church. He would be an ideal instrument with which to punish the Gentilee and the non-tithe-paying Mormons—should a majority of the Salt Lake City school trustees be elected by the church crowd next month.

Future to Be Looked At.

Future to Be Looked At.

As has been said, it is not so much what is now being done, bad as it is, as what may be done if the church crowd, angry as it is now because of the American party movement, prevails.

Six members of the school board are to be elected December 7. Two from the Pourth precinct and one each from the other four precincts. The present members are:

It is understood.

It is reported that a ticket will be put in the field by the Deseret News and the ecclesiastical crowd which will contain the names of Mormons and "Jack Mormons," and that it will be paraded as a non-partisan ticket.

The American party will nominate candidates in all precincts and make an appeal to the progressive element in Salt Lake to safeguard the schools by electing men who will treat Mormon and Gentile

Charity Workers Adopt Articles

New Organization Will Be Incorporated Some Time During the Coming Week.

Articles of incorporation of the Sal ake Charity association were adopted yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors, and will be filed some time during the coming week. Dr. T. B. Beatty, Simon Bamberger, F. A. Druehl and J. H. Evans will serve on the board of trustees for one year; Joseph Geoghe-gen, Rev. Elmer I. Goshen and W. Mont Ferry for two years; W. H. Tibbals, M. H. Walker and J. D. Wood for three years.

H. Walker and J. D. Wood for three years.

As set forth in the articles of incorporation, every department of work is to be completely severed from all questions of religious belief and nationality. Among the objects of the organization are that it shall become a center of intercommunication between various charitable and relief aspecies in Seit Lake City to foster harmonious communication between them and check overlapping of relief work; to investigate the cases of all applicants for relief; to abtain work for needy persons capable of whole or partial self-support; to discourage the growth of pauperism and grafting; to prosecute imposters, to promote the general welfare of the needy by social and sanitary reforms.

The principal office of the association is to be at Salt Lake City, with a board of the trustees, five of whom shall constitute a quorum. Election of officers is to be held annually, at which time trustees will be elected for three years to succeed retiring members.

WATER IS PURE.

Spring Creek Aqua Pura Is Well Adapted for Domestic Purposes.

Severe and thorough tests, just completed with the greatest care and scientific accuracy by City Chemist Herman. Harms, shows that the waters of Spring creek, proposed for use for city purposes, are in every way fit for domestic cullinary and manufacturing purposes. Six numples of the water, five taken from different points in the creek and one from the flowing well in the same vicinity, were subjected to both chemical analyses and bacteriological examinations, with the result that one sample was found to be of "good" purity, four were classed as "excellent," and one—that from the flowing well—was probounced "most excellent." The subterranean and the various creek waters are of identical character, the chemist says in his report, excepting the organic purity, which is greater in the flowing well than in the surface waters.

Chemist Harms was mildly surprised to find that so good conditions obtain in spite of the fact that the surrounding conditions at most of the points where samples were taken are rather poor, stock being permitted to graze along the creek, while water cress is found growing in the banks. That no contamination has occurred is considered little short of remarkable.
